SUMMARY

I am a Junior Fullstack Developer with a real passion for web development. My knowledge includes HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, as well as the first steps in React. I study modern technologies and practice them.

My strong point is analytical thinking. I am able to analyze problems and look for solutions to accurately solve technical problems. I am always open to learning and ready to improve my skills.

I have my first practical experience working on web projects and I feel comfortable in teamwork. My goal is to create useful and efficient web applications that make users' daily lives easier.
